Peak Soil – A Threat to African Food Security?

with

Professor Method Kilasara Sokoine University of Agriculture, Tanzania

Professor Sophie Zechmeister-Boltenstern BOKU – Institute of Soil Research

Professor Axel Mentler BOKU – Institute of Soil Research

African soils diminish rapidly, yet local, and global, food demands are growing fast. Business as usual is no option, but how can we safeguard the “thin skin” of our planet? Gradual adaptation or radical transformation of governance?
